| Title: \|Nawi-LoLa, Naturwissenschaft und Technik, Lernort Labor für Mädchen\| \|Implementation\|  \| \|Field(s) of Action:\|@#A9BCF5: * Presence and Visibility\| \|Objectives:\|* Promoting STEM fields to girls* Promoting careers in STEM fields* Personal Development and exploration of talents\| \|Target Group(s): \|PupilsStudentsGirls (ages 10-18)\| \|Description: \|The Students-Research Laboratory in Wiesbaden offers scientific workshops created especially for young women to explore working in a lab. Participants can choose different workshop topics out of the various STEM fields. Young women get to experience a scientific work life and learn whether similar kind of work can be a career goal to them.The project also qualifies older students to become mentors for the younger generation. Mentors support workshop participants and help motivate other young girls and women to find interest in STEM related studies and careers.\| \|More information:* | MNU - Verband zur Förderung des MINT-Unterrichts (Germany)Contact: Sabine Stuhlmannsabine.stuhlmann@mnu.deWebsite:http://www.sabine-sauerwein.de/ |
